Bachelor of Science in Crime and Justice

The accelerated program in Crime and Justice involves an analysis of criminal deviance and its roots, plus an in-depth understanding of our criminal justice system and its successes and failures. Unlike other criminal justice programs, students are not trained solely for traditional police work. Rather, students are educated in the academic study of crime, criminology and justice in preparation for a variety of positions within the criminal justice system.

The degree will be awarded upon completion of:
- Crime and Justice core requirements
- General education course requirements
- 126 college credits
