

Hopewell Furnace National Historic Site

Hopewell Furnace is a small park, protecting 848-acres of America's industrial heritage. In addition to visitors exploring the historic village, we receive a number of visitors enjoying the resources at neighboring French Creek State Park, including hikers, campers, and daily recreational users.

More Information:

The following volunteer positions are available:

- Visitor Services
- Historic Trades
- Cultural Resources
- Maintenance

All majors welcome. Training and job shadowing will be provided.

If interested in volunteering, visit <https://www.nps.gov/hofu/getinvolved/volunteer-opportunities.htm> to learn more. To apply, visit www.volunteer.gov (Keyword: Hopewell Furnace).

If you have any questions, you may contact the park's Volunteer Coordinator, Amanda Sherry, at 610-582-8773 or by email at amanda_sherry@partner.nps.gov.